HOW TO READ THIS BY-LAW

Preamble

The preamble is intended to assist the reader in understanding and interpreting the Zoning By-law for Haldimand County. The preamble does not form part of the Zoning By-law.

a. Overview of Zoning By-laws

A Zoning By-law is a detailed municipal by-law that regulates the types of land uses and activities that may occur on a property or within buildings; and the height, location, massing and character of buildings and structures.

The specific matters that may be regulated by a Zoning By-law are outlined in Section 34 of the Ontario Planning Act, R.S.O., 1990, c.P.13, as amended. Zoning By-laws are used by municipalities in Ontario to manage land use compatibility and manage the character and appearance of neighbourhoods and communities. Zoning By-laws are also prepared to implement the policies of a municipality's Official Plan, which establishes goals and policies respecting the types of permitted land uses and desired built form within different geographic areas of the municipality. The Zoning By-law is used to translate these policies into more specific permitted land uses, and requirements for lot and buildings by establishing zone categories and regulations which apply to all lands in the municipality.

A Zoning By-law is primarily implemented through the Building Permit application process. Where a property owner or occupant wishes to construct something on their property, and applies for a Building Permit, the proposal must conform to the provisions of the Zoning By-law. If the proposal does not conform to the Zoning By-law, the applicant can:

- a) apply for a minor variance to seek relief from the provisions of the Zoning By-law;
- b) apply for a rezoning (Zoning By-law Amendment) to change their zone or seek major relief from the provisions of the Zoning By-law; or
- c) the applicant can rework their proposal so that it complies with the Zoning By-law.

b. Authority to Prepare this By-law

The Zoning By-law is prepared in accordance with Section 34 of the Planning Act, R.S.O., 1990, c.P.13, as amended. Generally speaking, the Planning Act allows the Council of Haldimand County to pass zoning by-laws to restrict the use of land, and to regulate the size, location and character of buildings and structures within the County.

c. Overview of the Haldimand County Zoning By-law

This Zoning By-law regulates the use of land and buildings and the massing, location, height and character of buildings and structures for all lands within Haldimand County. All properties in the County as shown on Schedule A are subject to the provisions of this Zoning Bylaw. This By-law replaces the Town of Dunnville By-law 1-DU 80, the Town of Haldimand By-law 1-H 86, and the City of Nanticoke (East Portion) NE 1-2000, with all amendments thereto being carried forward.

PREAMBLE

HOW TO READ THIS BY-LAW

d. Structure of this By-law

The Haldimand County Zoning By-law consists of the following sections:

Section 1 – Interpretation and Administration

Section 1 describes how the Zoning By-law is to be interpreted, and how the By-law is to be administered by the County. All buildings and structures and land uses within the County are required to conform to the provisions of this By-law. Section 1 also contains important details regarding how development applications in process are to be administered.

Section 2 – Establishment of Zones

Section 2 of the Zoning By-law establishes the zone categories and zone symbols which are applied to all lands within the County as shown on Schedule A to this By-law. This section also describes how zone boundaries are to be interpreted and identifies special zone provisions, such as zone exceptions, or holding provisions, which may apply to specific properties.

Certain lands may be subject to holding provisions, which are denoted by the symbols “-H”, as a suffix to the zone. Where a holding symbol is shown, the provisions of Section 2.4.2 (Establishment of Holding Provisions) apply. Where a holding symbol is applied to lands, the lands may not be used or developed according to the requirements in the underlying zone until such time as the holding symbol is removed. Lands subject to a holding symbol are typically only permitted to be used for those uses which legally existed prior to the addition of the holding symbol. The by-law which was passed to add the holding symbol may contain special conditions for removing the holding symbol, such as the provision of municipal wastewater servicing for the land. County Council must pass a by-law to remove the holding symbol once they are satisfied that the conditions for removing the holding symbol have been met. A zone exception, as discussed below, often establishes the criteria that must be satisfied prior to the removal of the “-H” symbol.

Section 3 – Definitions

Section 3 provides definitions for commonly used terms in the By-law. The permitted uses, and other technical terms used in the Zoning By-law are defined to ensure the Zoning By-law is being interpreted and applied consistently. For the convenience of the reader, if a term is italicized in the text of the Zoning By-law, then the term is defined in Section 3.

Section 4 – General Provisions

Section 4 of the Zoning By-law provides general provisions which may be applicable to all zones, one or more categories of zones, or to specific uses, depending on the proposed use of the lot or the context of the lot. These provisions include detailed requirements for accessory buildings, bed and breakfast establishments, decks and unenclosed porches, home-based businesses, additional dwelling units, on-farm diversified agriculture uses and many more subjects that may be applicable to a permitted use or the lot, depending on the context.

PREAMBLE

HOW TO READ THIS BY-LAW

Section 5 – Parking and Loading Requirements

Section 5 identifies the minimum number of parking spaces that a use must provide on-site to accommodate vehicles. Some uses are also required to have loading spaces to accommodate the use. In this By-law, some uses are also required to provide and maintain a certain number of accessible parking spaces and bicycle parking spaces. This section also provides requirements for the size of parking spaces, drive aisles, and parking lots.

Sections 6-11 – Zone Categories (Permitted Uses and Zone Provisions)

Sections 6 through 11 outlines the zone categories which establish the permitted uses within each zone, as well as the general zone provisions which identify the lot and building requirements, including minimum lot area and lot frontage requirements, building setbacks from lot lines, and maximum building heights. In certain instances, a zone category may contain multiple zone variations which apply different zone provisions to a base zone. For example, R1(A), R1(B) and R1(C), while they all permit the same uses in the R1 zone, the zone provisions within the zone variations may vary in terms of minimum lot size and required setbacks.

The zones are organized into similar permitted use categories, in the following sections:

- Section 6 – Residential Zones
- Section 7 – Commercial and Mixed Use Zones
- Section 8 – Industrial Zones
- Section 9 – Institutional Zones
- Section 10 – Open Space, Wetland and Hazard Overlay Zones
- Section 11 – Agricultural and Future Development Zones

Where zones note a range of permitted uses, with descriptors “such as” and “including”, such permitted uses are not considered to be exhaustive and uses that are similar to those uses may be permitted.

Section 12 – Zone Exceptions

Most lands in the County are zoned by a base zone, which are represented by symbols such as R1, R2, R3, etc. However, some lands are also zoned by a site-specific exception zone, which is denoted as a base zone symbol followed by a hyphenated numeric suffix in square brackets. For example, R1(A)-[1] is exception number 1 to the Urban Residential Type 1 (R1(A)) zone. The zone exceptions provide special provisions related to that specific property or properties, and may establish specific requirements related to that zone exception, such as:

- a) allowing a use that would not be permitted otherwise;
- b) prohibiting a use that would be permitted otherwise; or
- c) incorporating other modifications to the zoning by-law as are set out in the zone provisions table for that exception, while retaining the un-modified provisions of the primary zone or subzone, as the case may be.

Furthermore, the zone exception may establish the requirements for removal of the “-H” symbol.

PREAMBLE

HOW TO READ THIS BY-LAW

Zone exceptions that were granted through amendments to the previous Town of Dunnville By-law 1-DU 80, the Town of Haldimand By-law 1-H 86, and the City of Nanticoke (East Portion) NE 1-2000 are carried forward in this Zoning By-law in the same structure as they were assigned and are listed in Section 12. The zone exceptions are also identified on the Maps of Schedule A in the historical structure.

Section 13.0– Enactment of By-law

Section 13.0 includes the particulars for the enactment of the Zoning By-law, including the effective date of the Zoning By-law.

Schedule A Maps

Schedule A to the Zoning By-law is comprised of a series of Maps which identify the zone categories for all lands in the County. In addition, the maps also identify areas which are subject to specific provisions which may include zone exceptions and holding provisions. The mapping is subject to change and may be amended from time to time to reflect amendments to the Zoning By-law as well as mapping changes due to technical adjustments.

Natural Environment Areas Overlay

Schedule A also identifies as an overlay, natural heritage features that are considered to have environmental importance at the Provincial and/or County level as identified in the County Official Plan. Since the delineation of these natural environmental areas may not be up to date or may change over time in all areas it is shown as an overlay on the Schedule. This overlay is primarily intended for information purposes only, as the limits and significance of the natural environment area may not be clearly defined at this time. As such, the development of the lands, in accordance with the underlying zone category, may require the preparation of an Environmental Impact Study (EIS), in accordance with the County Official Plan, to identify the limits of the feature to be protected or appropriate mitigation measures. Section 4.40 (Natural Environment Areas and Hazard Lands) in the general provisions provides additional information about the meaning of this overlay.

Natural Hazard Lands Overlay

Natural Hazard areas are illustrated as an overlay on Schedule A. These Natural Hazard areas include lands within the jurisdiction of the relevant Conservation Authority, and may relate to lands associated with flooding, erosion or other natural hazards. Development within the Natural Hazard and associated adjacent lands may require approval from the relevant Conservation Authority before a building permit can be issued. This overlay is intended for information purposes only, as the Natural Hazard Lands of the Conservation Authority may change from time to time. The reader should consult with the County and the relevant Conservation Authority to confirm whether approval will be required from the Conservation Authority prior to any development or site alteration. Section 4.40 (Natural Environment Areas and Natural Hazard Lands) in the general provisions provides additional information about the meaning of this overlay.

Schedule B – Intake Protection Zones

Schedule B identifies intake protection zones which include vulnerable areas in which a significant drinking water threat could occur, in accordance with the Clean Water Act. The general provisions of Section 4.29 (Intake Protection Zones) identify uses and activities which may be prohibited within the defined intake protection zones. The intent of these provisions is to protect the quality of water resources by prohibiting certain uses which may cause adverse impacts on water, such as the storage and handling of hazardous wastes.

All provisions of the By-law are intended to be read in conjunction with one another. It is always important, when reading a Zoning By-law, to identify all provisions throughout the document which may apply to a particular property or use.

e. How to Check Zoning and Identify Applicable Regulations for a Property

Zoning By-law users are a diverse audience. Some readers will want to examine how the Zoning By-law addresses a certain issue or regulates a certain use (e.g., how does the Zoning By-law regulate home occupations? In which Zones are apartment buildings permitted?) Other users are responsible for administering the By-law and must understand it in great detail.

The Zoning By-law is required to implement the County's Official Plan, and the reader should also refer to the Official Plan to determine the existing land use designation and any relevant policies which may be applicable to a specific property or development proposal. Readers are encouraged to consult with the County, to assist in confirming and interpreting the Zoning By-law.

Most readers, however, will use a Zoning By-law in order to determine what they are permitted to do on their property. The following is an outline of the steps one may typically take to determine what types of regulations apply to their property:

1. Locate the property on the applicable Schedule A Map and identify the zone symbol that applies to the property (e.g., R1(A)). In addition to the applicable zone symbol, the following property specific regulations may also apply, as denoted by a mapping overlay or a zone suffix:
 - 1.1 Natural Hazard Lands Overlay : If the property is located in Natural Hazard Lands, as shown as an overlay on Schedule A, the reader will need to refer to Section 4.40 (Natural Environment Areas and Natural Hazard Lands), which identifies associated regulations and permit requirements from the Conservation Authority which may be required to permit development on the property.
 - 1.2 Natural Environment Areas: If the property is located in the Natural Environment Areas, as shown as an overlay on Schedule A, the reader will need to refer to Section 4.40 (Natural Environment Areas and Natural Hazard Lands), which identifies associated regulations to require further natural heritage investigations (e.g., an EIS) which may be required to permit development on the property. The reader should also consult the County Official Plan to determine the type of natural environment area and associated policies for its protection or conservation.

HOW TO READ THIS BY-LAW

- 1.3 Zone Exception: If the zoning symbol includes a zone exception (i.e., R1(A)-1), refer to the applicable zone exception provisions contained in Section 12.0. In most cases, the Exception Zone may only provide alternative regulations for one or more provisions, and at least some of the zone regulations in the base zone in Sections 6-11, and the general provisions in Section 4 will still apply.
- 1.4 Holding Symbol: If a holding symbol (H) follows the zone symbol (i.e., R1(A)-1-H), refer to Section 2.4.2 regarding the establishment of the holding symbol, as well as the site specific exception to determine what uses may be permitted prior to the removal of the holding symbol and the criteria for the removal of the holding symbol. The reader should consult with the County to confirm the permitted uses and the requirements for removing the holding symbol.
- 1.5 Intake Protection Zone: If the property is located within an Intake Protection Zone as shown on Schedule B, the reader will need to refer to the general provisions in Section 4.29 (Intake Protection Zones), which identifies certain uses and activities which may be prohibited within the area in order to protect the quality of water resources.

2. Identify the permitted uses and zone provisions for the zone category: Every zone category includes a table of permitted uses and zone provisions in Section 6 through 11 of the By-law. For Residential Zones (R1, R2, R3, etc.) you will find the list of permitted uses in Section 6.2 (Permitted Uses) of the By-law, and the zone provisions in Section 6.3, which may be further divided into zone variations (i.e., R1(A), R1(B), R1(C)) which provide alternative zone provisions. The permitted uses for each zone are organized in a table. The uses permitted on your property are represented by the symbol “●” in the column applicable to that zone and corresponding with the row for a specific permitted use. For each zone, the zone provisions establish the lot and building requirements applicable to that zone, including the required minimum lot area, minimum lot frontage, minimum and/or maximum yard setbacks, building heights, and other lot and building requirements, which the use of the lot must comply with. Where the letter “E” is identified following the symbol “●”, only legally existing uses are permitted. Where the letter “A” is identified following the symbol “●”, the use is only permitted as an accessory use to another permitted use. Where a permitted use is subject to use specific general provisions, a notation has been added to the permitted use and reference should be made to the General Provisions in Section 4.

It is important to read the definitions in Section 3 associated with the terminology used in the By-law. All of the uses permitted in this By-law are associated with a definition. Many technical terms are also defined, such as lot frontage, lot coverage, and front yard setback, for example. Where a term is defined, you will see it appear in italics in this text for convenience.

3. Identify Other Provisions that May Apply: The types of uses and lot and building requirements are principally regulated by the zone provisions. However, the general provisions in Section 4 may also contain provisions that apply to certain permitted uses. For example, there are provisions that are specifically applicable to swimming pools, bed and breakfast establishments, accessory buildings, home-based businesses, and many other uses. Furthermore, Section 5 contains provisions that apply to the minimum number of required parking spaces, loading areas, drive aisle and parking lot requirements, and accessible parking space and bicycle parking requirements, which may apply depending on the type of use.

4. Consider the Administrative Provisions of the Zoning By-law: Section 1 of the Zoning By-law contains some provisions that can help you understand how to read and use the By-law, including compliance with other applicable legislation, and uses that may be subject to Site Plan Control. A reader should be familiar with these provisions as they may be important depending on your circumstance.

f. Confirming with the County

It is always a good idea to consult with the County about your construction project, as County staff will help you determine whether your project will comply with the applicable provisions of the Zoning By-law.

Additionally, there may be approved minor variances which are applicable to the property which may provide relief from certain zone regulations, permitted uses or general provisions. Minor variances previously granted are not reflected in the Zoning By-law and are not indicated in the Zone Exceptions. County staff can assist in identifying any approved minor variances that may relate to a property.

g. Relationship to Other By-laws, Regulations, Legislation, etc.

The Zoning By-law does not supersede or trump any other legislation, regulations or municipal by-laws. In fact, depending on your proposal or the use of your property, other laws may apply. It is the property owner's responsibility to understand what laws will apply to their land use or their construction project.

The municipality administers other by-laws that are related to this Zoning By-law. For example the County administers a property standards by-law for the maintenance of buildings, fill by-law for regulating the removal and placement of fill, and a sign by-law to regulate the erection of signs. These by-laws essentially 'build' on the Zoning By-law's requirements, and should be considered in addition to" the Zoning By-law's requirements.

The laws and regulations of the Province, the Federal Government and other agencies may also apply. Some uses may be subject to Provincial/Federal licensing or regulation. It is not the role of the Zoning By-law to integrate with the regulations or laws of other governments. The County can help you identify what other laws and regulations might apply to your construction project.

h. Technical Revisions to the Zoning By-law

Revisions may be made to this Zoning By-law without the need for a zoning by-law amendment for technical reasons, including:

1. correction of numbering, cross-referencing, grammar, punctuation or typographical errors or revisions to format in a manner that does not change the intent of the By-law;
2. adding or revising technical information on maps or schedules that does not affect the zoning of lands including, but not limited to, matters such as updating and correcting infrastructure information, keys, legends or title blocks; and

HOW TO READ THIS BY-LAW

3. changes to appendices, footnotes, headings, indices, marginal notes, tables of contents, illustrations, historical or reference information, page numbering, footers and headers, which do not form a part of this by-law and are editorially inserted for convenience or reference only.

i. Subsequent Zoning By-law Amendments

The Zoning By-law may be consolidated from time to time to include subsequent amendments to the Zoning By-law. However, there may have been amendments to the Zoning By-law (both text and mapping) or removals or additions of holding symbols which are not consolidated in the current office consolidation of the Zoning By-law. In all cases, the reader should contact the zoning administrator to confirm the most current zoning of a property and applicable regulations. Additionally, the maps contained in Schedule A may not reflect the latest zoning, or any recent changes to the parcel fabric, which may not have been updated in the most recent Zoning By-law consolidation.

j. Minor Variances

The Committee of Adjustment has the authority to approve minor variances to the Zoning By-law, which may provide minor relief from specific zoning provisions or minor changes to the permitted uses of one or more properties. Minor variances previously granted are not reflected in the Zoning By-law and are not indicated in the Zone Exceptions. The reader should contact the County to identify whether there are any approved minor variances applicable to a property.

ESTABLISHMENT OF ZONES

2.2 Zone Symbols

Zones and zone boundaries are shown on Schedule A of this Zoning By-law. The lands identified on the schedules as being within a zone are subject to the provisions of this by-law applicable to that zone or zones. The Schedules may be referred to as the “Zoning Maps” and each zone may be known by and may be referred to by its symbol.

2.3 Interpretation of Zone Boundaries

2.3.1 Determination of Zone Boundary

The following provisions shall apply in the interpretation of the location of zone boundaries:

- a) A zone boundary which is contiguous with a highway, street or lane shall be the centre line of such highway, street or lane.
- b) A zone boundary indicated as following a watercourse or the right-of-way of a railway or an electrical, gas or oil transmission line shall be the centre line of such watercourse or right-of-way.
- c) A zone boundary appearing to follow the lot lines of any lot shall be deemed to follow such lot lines.
- d) Where the provisions of Section 2.3.1 (a), (b) and (c) are not applicable in determining the location of a zone boundary, its location shall be determined by measuring the distance from the nearest definable legal geographic reference point as indicated on the applicable Zoning Map.
- e) As following the front lot line on a future lot in a draft approved Plan of Subdivision or Condominium, the boundary shall be the centre line of the future street being constructed.
- f) As following any other lot line on an existing lot or on a future lot in a draft approved Plan of Subdivision or Condominium, the boundary shall be the existing or future lot line.
- g) In the event that a street or lane or part thereof is closed, or an abandoned railway right of way is sold, the property formerly within such street, lane or right of way shall be included within the zone of the adjacent property to which it is adjoined. In the event that the closed street or lane or abandoned railway right of way was a zone boundary between two or more different zones, the new zone boundary shall be the boundary of the new property formed by the adjoining of the closed street, lane or right of way to adjacent properties. Where no adjoining takes place, the new zone boundary shall be the former centre line of the closed street, lane or right of way.
- h) The Natural Hazard Land Overlay boundaries identified on the map Schedules of this by-law are intended to generally identify areas of existing or potential natural hazards. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Zoning By-law, the boundaries of Natural Hazard Lands Overlay are subject to minor changes without a formal amendment to this By-law or the map Schedules when approved by County Staff in consultation with the appropriate Conservation Authority and/or other appropriate agencies. This may occur where detailed resource mapping and/or site inspection results in a minor re-interpretation of the limits of the Natural Hazard Lands Overlay boundary as established in this Zoning By-law.

SECTION 2

- i) Where none of the above provisions apply, the zone boundary shall be scaled from the Schedules.

2.3.2 More Than One Zone on a Lot

All provisions of the pertinent zone shall be satisfied on each portion of the lot so zoned, except:

- a) where a portion of a lot is zoned HL, OS, or W, the permitted uses and general provisions of the applicable zone shall apply to that portion of the property so affected;

- c) where a portion of the lot is zoned HL, such portion may be used in the calculation of minimum lot frontage provided safe access can be provided to the satisfaction of the County in consultation with the applicable Conservation Authority; or
- d) where the main use is wholly situated in one zone, an accessory structure or use may be permitted in the other zone provided it meets all provisions of Section 4.2 (Accessory Uses, Buildings and Structures to Residential Uses) or 4.3 (Accessory Uses, Buildings and Structures to Non-Residential Uses).

Where the permitted uses or zone provisions on such lands differ from the provisions of this Zoning By-Law, a Zone Exception shall be added to the respective Zone Exceptions Section (Section 12) of this by-Law. A numerical suffix in square brackets following the base zone symbol shall be added to Schedule A identifying the subject lands and the Zone Exception. 2.4.2 Establishment of Holding Provisions

Pursuant to Section 36 of the Planning Act, holding zones are hereby established by the use of the symbol “(-H)” as a suffix to the zone symbols. Land subject to the symbol “(-H)” indicates that development of the lands is premature at the present time, and the land shall not be used, nor any building or structure used, altered or erected except in accordance with the zone applied thereon and until the “(-H)” is removed by amendment to this By-law.
